10th GLOBAL WEEK

22nd - 26th October, 2018

At Chitkara University, we believe that for moving towards a stronger & sustainable future where there is critical need for extensive research and quality education, which can only be met by formulating closely knit global networked University systems.

Chitkara University has developed extensive meaningful collaborations with leading International Institutions and Universities. We extend an open platform for not just resource sharing but also creating phenomenal talent pool to capitalize & consolidate numerous strategic engagements in joint research projects & degree programs with apt articulations as well as sponsor exchange programs for boosting mobility cohorts for both our faculty and students..

The International Office provides and promotes support services to both students and faculty and ensures that International students integrate into the University's social and cultural activities. Major emphasis is laid on Internationalization at home, a unique initiative by the University viz. the much acclaimed Chitkara University Global Week, an annual feature that serves as a catalyst for infusing cross-cultural competence, knowledge transfer as well as networking with distinguished visiting guest professors from our priority partner Universities from across the world to deliver credit based modules and also be a substantial part of our much popular, exciting & fun filled social cultural immersion programs.

Our students gain strong core competencies & prowess expertise towards becoming global learning as they witness unprecedented pedagogical styles in teaching and learning from the eminent visiting guest professors. These weeks are a great footprint of the global networking engagement at Chitkara University and are one of the best ways of internationalizing student experience and knowledge sharing opportunities.

This initiative of internationalization at home has provided a phenomenal impetus to our aspiring students and faculty members for extensive exchanges particularly in European countries followed by USA, Canada, Australia etc. to name a few....

We warmly welcome you & eagerly look forward for having you with us very soon...
